Beyond Your Hammock LLC is registered as an Investment Adviser with the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. The company was founded in August 2013. Eric Roberge is the principal owner of the Firm. As of March 22, 2022, BYH managed approximately $47,058,632 in assets on a discretionary basis and $604,389 in assets on a non-discretionary basis.

Comprehensive Financial Planning via the Financially Sound Program

The most commonly-used service among our clients involves working one-on-one with a financial planner over an extended period of time. The monthly subscription fee allows clients to receive ongoing access to an advisor who will work with them to not only design their financial plan, but monitor the plan and recommend any changes on an ongoing basis to ensure it remains updated.

To start the Financially Sound program, a client will be taken through a process to establish their goals and values in their financial lives. They may be required to provide information to help complete the areas of analysis including net worth, cash flow, insurance, credit, employee benefits, retirement planning, insurance, investments, college planning, and estate planning.

The program provides a comprehensive process and a framework to use to organize a client's finances, prioritize their goals, and design an action plan to create and grow wealth. The plan will be monitored throughout the year and follow-up communications via in-person meeting, or phone, email, or video meeting will be made to the client to confirm that any agreed upon action steps have been carried out. The plan will be reviewed periodically to ensure accuracy and to make any changes, updates, or adjustments as necessary.

A true financial plan is not a one-time deliverable. It's not a giant stack of documents and spreadsheets to go through. Financial planning is an ongoing process that helps clients make well-informed, mindful decisions throughout life. The Financially Sound Program is designed to offer clients 5 meetings in the first year and 3 meetings per year in all following years. This meeting frequency is available to clients but not required, and some clients may choose to meet less often.

Limited Scope Financial Planning via the QuickStart Program

The Financially Sound program provides ongoing guidance, support, advice, and accountability. The program does not come with a set end date for the client relationship, and is therefore intended to be large in scope. We understand that not all clients need such a comprehensive engagement, and accordingly provide project-based financial planning services on topics including retirement planning, risk management and insurance, college savings, cash flow, debt management, work benefits, managing credit scores and reports, and estate planning through our QuickStart Programs.

The QuickStart Programs are designed to help those who may not need the ongoing engagement provided with the Financially Sound program (where the intention is to work together over time) and/or who only have a few key questions about what to do next. The program provides 1 to 3 intensive meetings to create a plan of action for the client, although the client will independently implement the action plan after the conclusion of their last QuickStart Program meeting.

Each meeting is 90 to 120 minutes long, and provides time and space to gain clarity on the client's goals, needs, and priorities. It also allows the advisor to run more complex projections to identify the optimal strategies for the client to use. The intention is to have clients walk away from these 1 to 3 meetings with a better understanding of their finances and clarity on the actions they need to take next. The client and advisor will work together to select the specific areas to cover. These areas may include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Retirement Planning: Our retirement planning services include projections of your likelihood of achieving your financial goals, typically focusing on financial independence as the primary objective. For situations where projections show less than the desired results, we may make recommendations, including those that may impact the original projections by adjusting certain variables (i.e., working longer, saving more, spending less, taking more risk with investments). If you are near retirement or already retired, advice may be given on appropriate distribution strategies to minimize the likelihood of running out of money or having to adversely alter spending during your retirement years.
- Insurance Review: Review of existing policies to ensure proper coverage for life, health, disability, long-term care, liability, home and automobile. If no coverage currently exists, we may analyze the risks associated with having no coverage and suggest that coverage be put in place.
- College Savings: Includes projecting the amount that will be needed to achieve college or other post-secondary education funding goals, along with advice on ways for you to save the desired amount. Recommendations as to savings strategies are included.
- Cash Flow and Debt Management: We will conduct a review of your income and expenses to determine your current surplus or deficit along with advice on prioritizing how any surplus should be used or how to reduce expenses if they exceed your income. Advice may also be provided on which debts to pay off first based on factors such as the interest rate of the debt and any income tax ramifications. We may also recommend what we believe to be an appropriate cash reserve that should be considered for emergencies and other financial goals, along with a review of accounts (such as money market funds) for such reserves, plus strategies to save desired amounts.
- Employee Benefits Optimization: We will provide a review and analysis as to whether you, as an employee, are taking full advantage of your employee benefits. If you are a business owner, we will consider and/or recommend the various benefit programs that can be structured to meet both business and personal goals.
- Credit Score Maximization: We will review your credit report and make recommendations to maximize your scores for the potential current and future benefits of having a better credit score, such as lower interest rates on mortgages, personal loans, etc.

- Estate Planning: This usually includes an analysis of your current estate plan, which may include whether you have a will, powers of attorney, trusts and other related documents. Our advice may also include ways for you to minimize or avoid future estate taxes by implementing appropriate estate planning strategies such as the use of applicable trusts. We always recommend that you consult with a qualified attorney when you initiate, update, or complete estate planning activities. We may provide you with contact information for attorneys who specialize in estate planning when you wish to hire an attorney for such purposes.
- Financial Goals: We will help clients identify financial goals and develop a plan to reach them. We will identify what you plan to accomplish, what resources you will need to make it happen, how much time you will need to reach the goal, and how much you should budget for your goal.
- Investment Analysis: This may involve providing information on the types of investment vehicles available, employee stock options, investment analysis and strategies, asset selection and portfolio design, as well as assisting you in establishing your own investment account at a selected broker/dealer or custodian. The strategies and types of investments we may recommend are further discussed in Item 8 of this brochure.

Investment Management Services

We are in the business of managing individually tailored investment portfolios. Our firm provides continuous advice to a client regarding the investment of client funds based on the individual needs of the client. Through personal discussions in which goals and objectives based on a client's particular circumstances are established, we develop a client's personal investment policy or an investment plan with an asset allocation target and create and manage a portfolio based on that policy and allocation target. During our data-gathering process, we determine the client's individual objectives, time horizons, risk tolerance, and liquidity needs. We may also review and discuss a client's prior investment history, as well as family composition and background.

Account supervision is guided by the stated objectives of the client (i.e., maximum capital appreciation, growth, income, or growth and income), as well as tax considerations. Clients may impose reasonable restrictions on investing in certain securities, types of securities, or industry sectors. This service has no minimum account size requirements and is offered to all clients. Fees pertaining to this service are outlined in Item 5 of this brochure.

We also offer investment management services by recommending clients, where appropriate, to third-party money managers ("Outside Managers") for portfolio management services. We assist clients in selecting an appropriate allocation model, completing the Outside Manager's investor profile questionnaire, interacting with the Outside Manager and reviewing the Outside Manager. Our review process and analysis of outside managers is further discussed in Item 8 of this Form ADV Part 2A. Additionally, we will meet with the client on a periodic basis to discuss changes in their personal or financial situation, suitability, and any new or revised restrictions to be applied to the account. Fees pertaining to this service are outlined in Item 5 of this brochure.

Employee Benefit Plan Services

Our firm provides employee benefit plan services to employer plan sponsors on an ongoing basis. Generally, such services consist of assisting employer plan sponsors in establishing, monitoring and reviewing their company's participant-directed retirement plan. As the needs of the plan sponsor dictate, areas of advising could include: investment options, plan structure, and participant education.

In providing employee benefit plan services, our firm does not provide any advisory services with respect to the following types of assets: employer securities, real estate (excluding real estate funds and publicly traded REITS), participant loans, non-publicly traded securities or assets, other illiquid investments, or brokerage window programs (collectively, "Excluded Assets").

Educational Seminars and Speaking Engagements

We may provide seminars on an "as announced" basis for groups seeking general advice on investments and other areas of personal finance. The content of these seminars will vary depending upon the needs of the attendees. These seminars are purely educational in nature and do not involve the sale of any investment products. Information presented will not be based on any individual's person's need, nor does BYH provide individualized investment advice to attendees during these seminars.

Client Tailored Services and Client Imposed Restrictions

We offer the same suite of services to all of our clients. However, specific client financial plans and their implementation are dependent upon the client Investment Policy Statement which outlines each client's current situation (income, tax levels, and risk tolerance levels) and is used to construct a client specific plan to aid in the selection of a portfolio that matches restrictions, needs, and targets.

Communication Standards

Clients have access to their advisor and the BYH team in between meetings as urgent or timely matters arise. If a topic or issue comes up between meetings clients wish to discuss with their advisor, BYH asks clients to please email with a brief explanation of the topic. If urgent or timely, a 15-minute phone or video conference will be scheduled to provide necessary answers; otherwise the topic will be included in the client's next scheduled meeting.

BYH's standard practice is to respond to all client emails and phone calls within 2 business days of receiving them. There may be periods of time where the advisor or BYH staff is away from the office and unable to respond to normal inquiries. During these times, clients will be notified in advance of their advisor's absence and given a specific date when they can expect to hear back from their advisor if they call or email during this time period. In the case of emergencies, the advisor will provide a phone number at which they can be reached for urgent matters.

BYH understands that scheduling issues do arise and welcomes clients to cancel meetings anytime and reschedule to a later date, although makes no guarantees of specific proximity to the original meeting time. (Because all clients tend to schedule meetings 3-4 months in advance, same-week availability may be limited.) Clients are asked to provide as much advance notice as possible so that their advisor can accommodate scheduling requests.

Retirement Account Rollovers

Depending on a client's given circumstances, BYH may recommend that a client rollover retirement plan assets to an Individual Retirement Account (IRA) managed by us. As a result of a rollover, BYH may earn fees on those accounts. This presents a conflict of interest, as BYH has a financial incentive to recommend that a client roll over retirement assets into an IRA we will manage. This conflict is disclosed to clients verbally and in this brochure. Clients are also advised that they are under no obligation to implement the recommendation to roll over retirement plan assets. BYH attempts to mitigate this conflict by requiring that all investment recommendations have a sound basis for the recommendation, and by requiring employees to acknowledge their fiduciary responsibility toward each client. When we provide investment advice to you regarding your retirement plan account or individual retirement account, we are fiduciaries within the meaning of Title I of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act and/or the Internal Revenue Code, as applicable, which are laws governing retirement accounts. The way we make money creates some conflicts with your interests, so we operate under a special rule that requires us to act in your best interest and not put our interest ahead of yours. Under this special rule's provisions, we must:

- Meet a professional standard of care when making investment recommendations (give prudent advice);
- Never put our financial interests ahead of yours when making recommendations (give loyal advice);
- Avoid misleading statements about conflicts of interest, fees, and investments;
- Follow policies and procedures designed to ensure that we give advice that is in your best interest;
- Charge no more than is reasonable for our services; and
- Give you basic information about conflicts of interest.

Wrap Fee Programs

We do not participate in wrap fee programs.

Item 5: Fees and Compensation

Please note, unless a client has received the firm's disclosure brochure at least 48 hours prior to signing the investment advisory contract, the investment advisory contract may be terminated by the client within five (5) business days of signing the contract without incurring any advisory fees. How we are paid depends on the type of advisory service we are performing. Please review the fee and compensation information below. Fees and service terms are subject to periodic revision. Clients may be notified of fee & service revisions to their account through the means defined in the client services agreement. Furthermore, as firm wide fee revisions occur, clients account fee schedules may be “grandfathered” at their prevailing fee schedule and therefore not reflected in this current Brochure. These fees may be higher or lower than the current fee schedule.

Limited Scope Financial Planning via the QuickStart Program

Financial Planning services are billed as a fixed fee. The fixed fee for these services will be determined on a case by case basis depending upon the complexity of the situation and the needs of the client, and will be agreed upon before the start of any work. The fixed fee can range between $500.00 - $5,000.00. The fee may be negotiable in certain cases. The entire fee is due at the beginning of the process, unless otherwise noted.

Comprehensive Financial Planning via the Financially Sound Program

Comprehensive Financial Planning services are billed as ongoing fee that is paid monthly, in advance, at the rate of $300.00 to $1000.00 per month. This service may be terminated with 30 days’ notice. Since this fee is paid in advance, a rebate may be needed upon termination to account for any unearned fee. Clients engaging Beyond Your Hammock, LLC for both Comprehensive Financial Planning and Investment Management will pay fees at a discounted rate as further discussed under investment management services below.

Investment Management Services

Our standard advisory fee for standalone investment management is based on the market value of the assets under management and is calculated as follows:

Account Value	Annual Advisory Fee
First $1,000,000	1.00%
Next $1,000,000	0.80%
Over $2,000,000	0.60%

The annual fees are negotiable in certain cases and are generally pro-rated and paid in advance on a quarterly basis. Accounts opened within a calendar quarter will be billed pro-rata for the balance of the quarter in which the account was opened in combination with the fees for the proceeding quarter. No increase in the annual fee shall be effective without agreement from the client by signing a new agreement or amendment to their current advisory agreement.

Management fees are directly debited from client accounts. Accounts initiated or terminated during a calendar quarter will be charged a pro-rated fee based on the amount of time remaining in the billing period. Upon termination of any account, any unearned fee will be returned to the client.

When Beyond Your Hammock LLC directs clients to Outside Managers, the Outside Manager will debit the client’s account their own predetermined fee for the management services, and will remit Beyond Your Hammock LLC’s portion of the fee to Beyond Your Hammock LLC.

Accounts initiated or terminated during a calendar quarter will be charged a prorated fee based on the amount of time remaining in the billing period. If fees are paid in arrears, no rebate will be necessary upon termination of the account.

Comingled Services

Clients engaging Beyond Your Hammock, LLC for both Comprehensive Financial Planning via the Financially Sound Program and Investment Management Services will pay fees in accordance with the following fee schedule:

$500,001 - $1,000,000	$2,750 ($229 per month)	0.95% of assets managed
$1,000,001 - $1,500,000	$2,500 ($208 per month)	0.90% of assets managed
$1,500,001 - $2,000,000	$2,250 ($187 per month)	0.85% of assets managed
$2,000,001 or more	Starting at $2,000 ($167 per month)	0.80% of assets managed

Investment advisory fees are negotiable and may vary based on factors such as client size and complexity.

Monthly planning fees will be reviewed and adjusted on a quarterly basis in accordance with the calculation of Investment Management fees as described above.

Educational Seminars and Speaking Engagements

Educational seminars, workshops, and speaking engagements are offered on a fixed fee basis. The fixed fee is negotiable and will be agreed upon before the engagement. The fixed fee is based on the content, amount of research conducted, number of hours of preparation needed, and the number of attendees and may range between $0 - $50,000 per event.

Other Types of Fees and Expenses

Our fees are exclusive of brokerage commissions, transaction fees, and other related costs and expenses which may be incurred by the client. Clients may incur certain charges imposed by custodians, brokers, and other third parties such as custodial fees, deferred sales charges, odd-lot differentials, transfer taxes, wire transfer and electronic fund fees, and other fees and taxes on brokerage accounts and securities transactions. Mutual fund and exchange traded funds also charge internal management fees, which are disclosed in a fund's prospectus. Such charges, fees and commissions are exclusive of and in addition to our fee, and we shall not receive any portion of these commissions, fees, and costs. When selecting mutual funds that have multiple share classes, we will take into account the internal fees and expenses associated with each share class. It is our policy to purchase the lowest-cost share class available to us, absent circumstances that dictate otherwise.

Item 12 further describes the factors that we consider in selecting or recommending broker-dealers for client's transactions and determining the reasonableness of their compensation (e.g., commissions).

We do not accept compensation for the sale of securities or other investment products including asset-based sales charges or service fees from the sale of mutual funds.

Item 6: Performance-Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management

We do not offer performance-based fees.

Item 7: Types of Clients

We provide comprehensive financial planning and portfolio management services to individuals, high net worth individuals, corporations and other business entities. We do not have a minimum account size requirement.

Item 8: Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

Financial Planning and Investment Management

We prefer that investment management clients retain the firm to complete a financial plan prior to transferring their investments to us. The financial modeling and planning process will help us and the client determine an asset allocation with return and risk characteristics that are consistent with the client's needs and goals. A portfolio can then be constructed that meets these criteria. While the asset allocation of a client's portfolio may adjust from time to time with changing market fundamentals, and the addition of new asset classes, these portfolios are invested for the long-term with a focus on broad diversification, mitigating cost, creating tax efficiency and ultimately put us in a position to reap the benefits of appropriate long-term market exposure.

The investment programs are not investment products. Clients may have different needs than others within the same investment program. Accordingly, not all clients in each investment program will have the same percentages of each underlying investment.

The investment programs that we recommend are based on the needs of the client as compared with the typical behavior of that security type or manager, current market conditions, the client's current financial situation (including assets that may be managed by another advisor), financial goals, and the timeline to meet those goals. Because we develop an investment strategy based on a client's personal situation and financial goals, client asset allocation guidelines may be similar to or different from another client.

We may periodically recommend changes to the investment programs and client portfolios to meet the guidelines of the asset allocation for the program or an individual client's objectives. It is important to remember that because market conditions can vary greatly, client asset allocation guidelines are not necessarily strict rules. Rather, we review accounts individually and may deviate from the guidelines as we deem necessary.

When we make changes to an investment program, these changes may not be made simultaneously to the accounts under the program, rather, some accounts may be modified before others. This may result in accounts being traded earlier inadvertently having an advantage over accounts traded later.

Additionally, as assets are transitioned from a client's prior advisors to us, clients may hold legacy securities. Legacy securities are those that a client owned prior to or separate from its Beyond Your Hammock portfolio. If a client transitions mutual fund shares to us that are not the lowest-cost share class, and we do not recommend disposing of the security altogether, we will attempt to convert such mutual fund share classes into the lowest-cost share classes the client is eligible for, taking into account any adverse tax consequences associated with such conversion.

Additionally, part of our process includes, where appropriate, involving multiple generations in order to facilitate family financial planning. This can increase the financial education of the later generations and manage expectations. However, potential for conflicts of interest exist with the exchange of intergenerational information. We attempt to minimize these conflicts by treating each household as its own fiduciary relationship. Information can only be shared across generations with each household's consent.

Some clients, because of their circumstances, do not need financial planning services. We will make our best effort to provide these clients with investment management services that meet their needs. We do this by understanding the client's circumstances, preferences, attitudes, experience, knowledge and temperament.

Passive Investment Management

We primarily practice passive investment management. Passive investing involves building portfolios that are comprised of various distinct asset classes. The asset classes are weighted in a manner to achieve a desired relationship between correlation, risk and return. Funds that passively capture the returns of the desired asset classes are placed in the portfolio. The funds that are used to build passive portfolios are typically index mutual funds or exchange traded funds.

Passive investment management is characterized by low portfolio expenses (i.e. the funds inside the portfolio have low internal costs), minimal trading costs (due to infrequent trading activity), and relative tax efficiency (because the funds inside the portfolio are tax efficient and turnover inside the portfolio is minimal).

In contrast, active management involves a single manager or managers who employ some method, strategy or technique to construct a portfolio that is intended to generate returns that are greater than the broader market or a designated benchmark. Academic research indicates most active managers underperform the market.

Recommendation of Particular Types of Securities

As disclosed under the Advisory Business section in this brochure, we primarily recommend mutual funds and exchange traded funds (ETFs). However, we may recommend other types of investments as appropriate. Each type of security has its own unique set of risks associated with it. Please see below for Material Risks Associated with Securities.

Additionally, BYH utilizes the services of East Bay Investment Solutions, an independent Registered Investment Advisor, to assist in portfolio management and research

Material Risks Involved

All investing strategies we offer involve risk and may result in a loss of your original investment which you should be prepared to bear. Many of these risks apply equally to stocks, bonds, commodities and any other investment or security. Material risks associated with our investment strategies are listed below.

Market Risk: Market risk involves the possibility that an investment's current market value will fall because of a general market decline, reducing the value of the investment regardless of the operational success of the issuer's operations or its financial condition.

Strategy Risk: The Adviser's investment strategies and/or investment techniques may not work as intended.

Small and Medium Cap Company Risk: Securities of companies with small and medium market capitalizations are often more volatile and less liquid than investments in larger companies. Small and medium cap companies may face a greater risk of business failure, which could increase the volatility of the client's portfolio.

Turnover Risk: At times, the strategy may have a portfolio turnover rate that is higher than other strategies. A high portfolio turnover would result in correspondingly greater brokerage commission expenses and may result in the distribution of additional capital gains for tax purposes. These factors may negatively affect the account's performance.

Limited markets: Certain securities may be less liquid (harder to sell or buy) and their prices may at times be more volatile than at other times. Under certain market conditions we may be unable to sell or liquidate investments at prices we consider reasonable or favorable, or find buyers at any price.

Concentration Risk: Certain investment strategies focus on particular asset-classes, industries, sectors or types of investment. From time to time, these strategies may be subject to greater risks of adverse developments in such areas of focus than a strategy that is more broadly diversified across a wider variety of investments.

Interest Rate Risk: Bond (fixed income) prices generally fall when interest rates rise, and the value may fall below par value or the principal investment. The opposite is also generally true: bond prices generally rise when interest rates fall. In general, fixed income securities with longer maturities are more sensitive to these price changes. Most other investments are also sensitive to the level and direction of interest rates.

Legal or Legislative Risk: Legislative changes or Court rulings may impact the value of investments, or the securities' claim on the issuer's assets and finances.

Inflation: Inflation may erode the buying-power of your investment portfolio, even if the dollar value of your investments remains the same.

Market Disruption, Health Crisis, Terrorism and Geopolitical Risk. Investments are subject to the risk that war, terrorism, global health crises or similar pandemics, and other related geopolitical events increase short-term market volatility and may have adverse long-term effects on world economics and markets generally. These risks have previously led and may lead in the future to adverse effects on the value of client's investments.

Risks Associated with Securities

Apart from the general risks outlined above which apply to all types of investments, specific securities may have other risks.

Common stocks may go up and down in price quite dramatically, and in the event of an issuer's bankruptcy or restructuring could lose all value. A slower-growth or recessionary economic environment could have an adverse effect on the price of all stocks.

Bank Obligations including bonds and certificates of deposit may be vulnerable to setbacks or panics in the banking industry. Banks and other financial institutions are greatly affected by interest rates and may be adversely affected by downturns in the U.S. and foreign economies or changes in banking regulations.

Options and other derivatives carry many unique risks, including time-sensitivity, and can result in the complete loss of principal.

Real-Estate linked investments may be especially illiquid and subject to specific geographic risk.

Oil and Gas Interests may lose value due to changes in commodity prices, costs associated with the transport of oil/gas, seasonal factors or technological advances that impact the demand for oil and gas.

Mutual Funds and ETFs: Mutual funds and exchange traded funds (ETFs) are professionally managed collective investment systems that pool money from many investors and invest in stocks, bonds, short term money market instruments, other mutual funds, other securities or any combination thereof. Each fund will have a manager that trades the fund's investments in accordance with the fund's investment objective.

While mutual funds and ETFs generally provide diversification, risks can be significantly increased if the fund is concentrated in a particular sector of the market, primarily invests in small cap or speculative companies, uses leverage (i.e., borrows money) to a significant degree, or concentrates in a particular type of security (i.e., equities) rather than balancing the fund with different types of securities.

Exchange traded funds differ from mutual funds since they can be bought and sold throughout the day like stock, and their price can fluctuate throughout the day. The returns on mutual funds and ETFs can be reduced by the costs to manage the funds. Also, while some mutual funds are "no load" and charge no fee to buy into, or sell out of the fund, other types of mutual funds do charge such fees which can also reduce returns.

Cryptocurrency Risk: Cryptocurrency (notably, bitcoin), often referred to as "virtual currency", "digital currency," or "digital assets," operates as a decentralized, peer-to-peer financial exchange and value storage that is used like money. Clients may have exposure to bitcoin, a cryptocurrency, indirectly through an investment such as the Grayscale Bitcoin Investment Trust ("GBTC"), a privately offered, open-end investment vehicle, or other investment vehicles. Clients may also have exposure to cryptocurrencies other than bitcoin. Cryptocurrency operates without central authority or banks and is not backed by any government. Even indirectly, cryptocurrencies (i.e., bitcoin) may experience very high volatility and related investment vehicles like GBTC may be affected by such volatility. Certain Crypto-related investments held by Clients may also trade at a significant premium to NAV. Cryptocurrency is also not legal tender. Federal, state or foreign governments may restrict the use and exchange of cryptocurrency, and regulation in the U.S. is still developing. The SEC has issued a public report stating U.S. federal securities laws require treating some digital assets as securities. Cryptocurrency exchanges may stop operating or permanently shut down due to fraud, technical glitches, hackers or malware. Due to its relatively recent launch, bitcoin has a limited trading history, making it difficult for investors to evaluate investments in this cryptocurrency. It is also possible that a cryptocurrency other than bitcoin, including cryptocurrencies in which Clients have limited or no exposure to, could become materially popular and have a negative impact on the demand for and price of bitcoin. It is possible that another entity could manipulate the blockchain in a manner that is detrimental to the bitcoin network. Bitcoin transactions are irreversible such that an improper transfer can only be undone by the receiver of the bitcoin agreeing to return the bitcoin to the original sender. Digital assets are highly dependent on their developers and there is no guarantee that development will continue or that developers will not abandon a project with little or no notice. Third parties may assert intellectual property claims relating to the holding and transfer of digital assets, including cryptocurrencies, and their source code. Any threatened action that reduces confidence in a network's long-term ability to hold and transfer cryptocurrency may affect investments in cryptocurrencies.

Risks specific to private placements, sub-advisors and other managers: If we invest some of your assets with another advisor, including a private placement, there are additional risks. These include risks that the other manager is not as qualified as we believe them to be, that the investments they use are not as liquid as we would normally use in your portfolio, or that their risk management guidelines are more liberal than we would normally employ.

Item 9: Disciplinary Information

Registered investment advisers are required to disclose all material facts regarding any legal or disciplinary events that would be material to your evaluation of Beyond Your Hammock LLC or the integrity of our management. We have no information applicable to this Item.

Item 10: Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

Mr. Roberge currently does not participate in other financial industry activities and is not affiliated with other financial firms.

Recommendations or Selections of Other Investment Advisers

As referenced in Item 4 of this brochure, Beyond Your Hammock LLC recommends clients to Outside Managers to manage their accounts. In the event that we recommend an Outside Manager, please note that we do not share in their advisory fee. Our fee is separate and in addition to their compensation (as noted in Item 5) and will be described to you prior to engagement. You are not obligated, contractually or otherwise, to use the services of any Outside Manager we recommend. Additionally, Beyond Your Hammock LLC will only recommend an Outside Manager who is properly licensed or registered as an investment adviser.

Item 11: Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

We have adopted a Code of Ethics for all supervised persons of the firm describing its high standard of business conduct, and fiduciary duty to its clients. The Code of Ethics includes provisions relating to the confidentiality of client information, a prohibition on insider trading, a prohibition on rumor mongering, restrictions on the acceptance of significant gifts and the reporting of certain gifts and business entertainment items, and personal securities trading procedures, among other things. All members of the firm must acknowledge the terms of the Code of Ethics annually, or as amended.

All our employees are required to follow our Code of Ethics which places the interests of advisory clients first. The Code of Ethics is designed to assure that the personal securities transactions, activities and interests of our employees will not interfere with making decisions in the best interest of advisory clients. Under the Code certain classes of securities have been designated as exempt transactions, based upon a determination that these would not materially interfere with the best interest of our clients. In addition, the Code requires pre-clearance of many transactions, and restricts trading in close proximity to client trading activity. Employee trading is continually monitored under the Code of Ethics, and to reasonably prevent conflicts of interest between our firm and its clients.

It is our policy that the firm will not affect any principal or agency cross securities transactions for client accounts. We will also not cross trades between client accounts. Our clients or prospective clients may request a copy of the firm's Code of Ethics by contacting Eric Roberge.

Item 12: Brokerage Practices

Factors Used to Select Custodians and/or Broker/Dealers

Beyond Your Hammock LLC does not have any affiliation with custodians and/or Broker/Dealers. Specific custodian recommendations are made to clients based on their need for such services. We recommend custodians based on the reputation and services provided by the firm.

Our Custodians and Brokers-Dealers: TD Ameritrade

BYH does not maintain custody of client assets; though BYH may be deemed to have custody if a client grants BYH authority to debit fees directly from their account (see Item 15 below). Assets will be held with a qualified custodian, which is typically a bank or broker-dealer. BYH recommends that investment accounts be held in custody by TD Ameritrade Institutional, a division of TD Ameritrade, member FINRA/SIPC, an unaffiliated SEC-registered broker-dealer and FINRA member.

TD Ameritrade

TD Ameritrade offers enhanced services to independent investment advisors. These services include custody of securities, trade execution platforms, clearance and settlement of transactions, and access to research not available to the general public. TD Ameritrade is independently owned and is wholly independent from BYH. It is expected that most, if not all, transactions in a given client account will be cleared through the custodian of that account in its capacity as a broker-dealer.

BYH recommends TD Ameritrade to its clients based on a variety of factors. These include, but are not limited to costs. TD Ameritrade has what can be considered discounted commission rates. However, in choosing a broker-dealer or custodian to recommend, we are most concerned with the value the client receives for the cost paid, not just the cost. TD Ameritrade adds value beyond commission cost. Other factors that may be considered in determining overall value include speed and accuracy of execution, financial strength, knowledge and experience of staff, research and service. TD Ameritrade also has arrangements with many exchange traded funds and mutual funds that enable us to purchase these exchange traded funds and mutual funds for client accounts at reduced transaction charges (as opposed to other broker-dealers). BYH re-evaluates the use of TD Ameritrade at least annually to determine if they are still the best value for our clients.

BYH participates in the institutional advisor program (the "Program") offered by TD Ameritrade Institutional. TD Ameritrade Institutional is a division of TD Ameritrade Inc., member FINRA/SIPC ("TD Ameritrade"), an unaffiliated SEC-registered broker-dealer and FINRA member. TD Ameritrade offers to independent investment advisors services which include custody of securities, trade execution, clearance and settlement of transactions. BYH receives some benefits from TD Ameritrade through its participation in the Program.

As disclosed above, BYH participates in TD Ameritrade's institutional customer program and BYH may recommend TD Ameritrade to Clients for custody and brokerage services. There is no direct link between BYH's participation in the program and the investment advice it gives to its Clients, although BYH receives economic benefits through its participation in the program that are typically not available to TD Ameritrade retail investors. These benefits include the following products and services (provided without cost or at a discount): receipt of duplicate Client statements and confirmations; research related products and tools; consulting services; access to a trading desk serving BYH participants; access to block trading (which provides the ability to aggregate securities transactions for execution and then allocate the appropriate shares to Client accounts); the ability to have advisory fees deducted directly from Client accounts; access to an electronic communications network for Client order entry and account information; access to mutual funds with no transaction fees and to certain institutional money managers; and discounts on compliance, marketing, research, technology, and practice management products or services provided to BYH by third party vendors.

TD Ameritrade may also have paid for business consulting and professional services received by BYH's related persons. Some of the products and services made available by TD Ameritrade through the program may benefit BYH but may not benefit its Client accounts. These products or services may assist BYH in managing and administering Client accounts, including accounts not maintained at TD Ameritrade. Other services made available by TD Ameritrade are intended to help BYH manage and further develop its business enterprise. The benefits received by BYH or its personnel through participation in the program do not depend on the amount of brokerage transactions directed to TD Ameritrade. As part of its fiduciary duties to clients, BYH endeavors at all times to put the interests of its clients first. Clients should be aware, however, that the receipt of economic benefits by BYH or its related persons in and of itself creates a potential conflict of interest and may indirectly influence the BYH's choice of TD Ameritrade for custody and brokerage services.

Generally, in addition to a broker's ability to provide "best execution," BYH may also consider the value of "research" or additional brokerage products and services a broker-dealer has provided or may be willing to provide. This is known as paying for those services or products with "soft dollars." Because many of the services or products could be considered to provide a benefit to BYH, and because the "soft dollars" used to acquire them are client assets, BYH could be considered to have a conflict of interest in allocating client brokerage business: BYH could receive valuable benefits by selecting a particular broker or dealer to execute client transactions and the transaction compensation charged by that broker or dealer might not be the lowest compensation BYH might otherwise be able to negotiate. In addition, BYH could have an incentive to cause clients to engage in more securities transactions than would otherwise be optimal in order to generate brokerage compensation with which to acquire products and services.

BYH's use of soft dollars is intended to comply with the requirements of Section 28(e) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. Section 28(e) provides a "safe harbor" for investment managers who use commissions or transaction fees paid by their advised accounts to obtain investment research services that provide lawful and appropriate assistance to the manager in performing investment decision-making responsibilities. As required by Section 28(e), BYH will make a good faith determination that the amount of commission or other fees paid is reasonable in relation to the value of the brokerage and research services provided. That is, before placing orders with a particular broker, we generally determine, considering all the factors described below, that the compensation to be paid to TD Ameritrade is reasonable in relation to the value of all the brokerage and research products and services provided by TD Ameritrade. In making this determination, we typically consider not only the particular transaction or transactions, and not only the value of brokerage and research services and products to a particular client, but also the value of those services and products in our performance of our overall responsibilities to all of our clients. In some cases, the commissions or other transaction fees charged by a particular broker-dealer for a particular transaction or set of transactions may be greater than the amounts another broker-dealer who did not provide research services or products might charge.

We do not consider whether TD Ameritrade or any other broker-dealer/custodian, refers clients to BYH as part of our evaluation of these broker-dealers.

Aggregating (Block) Trading for Multiple Client Accounts

Generally, we combine multiple orders for shares of the same securities purchased for advisory accounts we manage (this practice is commonly referred to as “block trading”). We will then distribute a portion of the shares to participating accounts in a fair and equitable manner. The distribution of the shares purchased is typically proportionate to the size of the account, but it is not based on account performance or the amount or structure of management fees. Subject to our discretion, regarding particular circumstances and market conditions, when we combine orders, each participating account pays an average price per share for all transactions and pays a proportionate share of all transaction costs. Accounts owned by our firm or persons associated with our firm may participate in block trading with your accounts; however, they will not be given preferential treatment. Outside Managers used by Beyond Your Hammock LLC may block client trades at their discretion. Their specific practices are further discussed in their ADV Part 2A, Item 12.

Item 13: Review of Accounts

Client accounts with the Investment Supervisory Service and Investment Advisory Service will be reviewed regularly on a quarterly basis by Mr. Roberge. During the regular review the account's performance is compared against like-managed accounts to identify any unacceptable performance deviation. Additionally, reasonable client imposed restrictions will be reviewed to confirm that they are being enforced. Events that may trigger a special review would be unusual performance, addition or deletions of client imposed restrictions, excessive draw-down, volatility in performance, or buy and sell decisions from the firm or per client's needs.

Clients will receive trade confirmations from the broker(s) for each transaction in their accounts as well as monthly or quarterly statements and annual tax reporting statements from their custodian showing all activity in the accounts, such as receipt of dividends and interest.

Item 14: Client Referrals and Other Compensation

We receive a non-economic benefit from TD Ameritrade in the form of the support products and services it makes available to us and other independent investment advisors whose clients maintain their accounts at TD Ameritrade. These products and services, how they benefit us, and the related conflicts of interest are described above (see Item 12—Brokerage Practices). The availability to us of TD Ameritrade's products and services is not based on us giving particular investment advice, such as buying particular securities for our clients.

Item 15: Custody

BYH deducts fees from client accounts, but would not have custody of client funds otherwise. Clients will receive statements directly from TD Ameritrade, and copies of all trade confirmations directly from TD Ameritrade. Clients whose fees are directly debited will provide written authorization to debit advisory fees from their accounts held by a qualified custodian chosen by the client. Clients should receive at least quarterly statements from the broker dealer, bank or other qualified custodian that holds and maintains client's investment assets showing all transaction in the account, including the fee.

We urge you to carefully review such statements and compare such official custodial records to the account statements or reports that we may provide to you. Our statements or reports may vary from custodial statements based on accounting procedures, reporting dates, or valuation methodologies of certain securities.

Item 16: Investment Discretion

For those client accounts where we provide ongoing money management or investment advice with ongoing supervision, we maintain limited power of attorney over client accounts with respect to securities to be bought and sold and the amount of securities to be bought and sold. Investment discretion is explained to clients in detail when an advisory relationship has commenced. At the start of the advisory relationship, the client will execute a Limited Power of Attorney which will grant our firm discretion over the account. Additionally, the discretionary relationship will be outlined in the advisory contract and signed by the client.

Item 17: Voting Client Securities

We do not vote Client proxies. Therefore, Clients maintain exclusive responsibility for: (1) voting proxies, and (2) acting on corporate actions pertaining to the Client's investment assets. The Client shall instruct the Client's qualified custodian to forward to the Client copies of all proxies and shareholder communications relating to the Client's investment assets. If the client would like our opinion on a particular proxy vote, they may contact us at the number listed on the cover of this brochure.

In most cases, you will receive proxy materials directly from the account custodian. However, in the event we were to receive any written or electronic proxy materials, we would forward them directly to you by mail, unless you have authorized our firm to contact you by electronic mail, in which case, we would forward you any electronic solicitation to vote proxies.

Item 18: Financial Information

Registered investment advisers are required in this Item to provide you with certain financial information or disclosures about our financial condition. We have no financial commitment that impairs our ability to meet contractual and fiduciary commitments to clients, and we have not been the subject of a bankruptcy proceeding. We do not have custody of client funds or securities or require or solicit prepayment of more than $500 in fees per client six months in advance.

CERTIFIED FINANCIAL PLANNER™ (CFP®)

The CERTIFIED FINANCIAL PLANNER™ and CFP® marks (collectively, the “CFP® marks”) are professional certification marks granted in the United States by Certified Financial Planner Board of Standards, Inc. (“CFP Board”).

The CFP® certification is a voluntary certification; no federal or state law or regulation requires financial planners to hold CFP® certification. It is recognized in the United States and a number of other countries for its (1) high standard of professional education; (2) stringent code of conduct and standards of practice; and (3) ethical requirements that govern professional engagements with clients. Currently, more than 62,000 individuals have obtained CFP® certification in the United States.

To attain the right to use the CFP® marks, an individual must satisfactorily fulfill the following requirements:

- Education – Complete an advanced college-level course of study addressing the financial planning subject areas that CFP Board’s studies have determined as necessary for the competent and professional delivery of financial planning services, and attain a Bachelor’s Degree from a regionally accredited United States college or university (or its equivalent from a foreign university). CFP Board’s financial planning subject areas include insurance planning and risk management, employee benefits planning, investment planning, income tax planning, retirement planning, and estate planning;
- Examination – Pass the comprehensive CFP® Certification Examination. The examination, administered in 10 hours over a two-day period, includes case studies and client scenarios designed to test one’s ability to correctly diagnose financial planning issues and apply one’s knowledge of financial planning to real world circumstances;
- Experience – Complete at least three years of full-time financial planning-related experience (or the equivalent, measured as 2,000 hours per year); and
- Ethics – Agree to be bound by CFP Board’s Standards of Professional Conduct, a set of documents outlining the ethical and practice standards for CFP® professionals.

Individuals who become certified must complete the following ongoing education and ethics requirements in order to maintain the right to continue to use the CFP® marks:

Continuing Education – Complete 30 hours of continuing education hours every two years, including two hours on the Code of Ethics and other parts of the Standards of Professional Conduct, to maintain competence and keep up with developments in the financial planning field; and Ethics – Renew an agreement to be bound by the Standards of Professional Conduct. The Standards prominently require that CFP® professionals provide financial planning services at a fiduciary standard of care. This means CFP® professionals must provide financial planning services in the best interests of their clients.

CFP® professionals who fail to comply with the above standards and requirements may be subject to CFP Board’s enforcement process, which could result in suspension or permanent revocation of their CFP® certification.
